EARTH-FRIENDLY COMBO BLISTER PROGRAM
- First Choice Packaging offers recycled plastics in gang runs -

FREMONT, OH (June, 2009) ... First Choice Packaging, a premier Midwest contract packaging and thermoforming company, has introduced an earth-friendly, economical alternative to standard blisters.

The RPET Combo Blister Program uses recycled plastics in customized 'gang runs' to reduce costs while utilizing environmentally sensible materials. Customers can order as few as 15,000 blisters, making the program ideal for start-up products or promotions. The combination run controls costs for a minimal number of SKUs or small runs.

"We use up to 100% post-consumer RPET for our recycled blisters," says Steve Thomas, national sales manager of First Choice Packaging. "And, while these materials typically carry a higher cost, our in-house capabilities allow us to offer a very economic alternative with this efficient program."

Virtually any shape or size blister is available through the RPET Combo Program, and orders are promptly processed. All orders placed by the 5th of the month are shipped by the end of that same month. For more information on the RPET Combo Blister Program contact First Choice Packaging at 1-866-700-PACK (7225).
